The Convention. The Democratic State Executive Committee met yesterday in this city and called a Democratic State Convention to be held in Rosnoke City on the 4th of August.

We are afraid that Tidewater and Northern-Virginia Democrats will not be pleased with the place selected. It is not by any mesns a central point. The convention might almost as well be held in Danville. Personally we would as lief have the Convention meet in Roanoke as in Richmond; and there are some reasons why the former place was preferred by the Executive Com-

Roznoke is a thriving town. It is the terminus of the Shenandoch Valley railroad, by which all the lower-Valley Democrats can go to the convention. It is on the line of the Atlantic, Mississippi and Obio railroad, by which Democrats from Little Tennessee and from Eastern Virginia can go to the convention. It ought not to make much difference whether such a convention is held at one place or another. The day agreed upon is as good as any other would have been. The various counties can appoint their delegates on their respective county-court days. Now let us hear no growing and grumbling. The die is cast. The Democratic party has agreed upon its policy. The action of the State Executive Committee is final. It cannot be reconsidered. The con vention is to be held. Why do aught to prevent it from being a glorious success? Let us hope that no good Democrat will be guilty of that party sin.

The North Carolina Case. The truth of General GRANT's celebrated

dictum that the best way to get rid of a bad law is to execute it rigidly may possibly be exemplified after a fashion in the results flowing from Judge Boxp's usurpations of jurisdiction in cases which he has no right to have in his court. His decision in the North Carolina case to which we referred a few days ago may aid Virginia in her efforts to get out of the unconstitutional tramme in which she is now bound.

The suit we refer to was brought, as we have heretofore stated, by A. H. TEMPLE. of Raleigh, in the interest of Monros. Buss & Co., of New York, and other holders of the special-tax bonds of the State issued in 1869. The payment of the bonds to the amount of $10,000,000 was secured by a tax of 1; per cent., which the State promised to levy on all real and personal property in the State. The object of the suit was to compel the levy of this tax to cover the principal and about 90 per centaccrued interest due on the original specialtix bonds. Boxb holds the act stopping the collection unit and void, and orders the agents of the State to proceed to collect the taxes and pay the interest. His associate circuit judge d ssents, and the case will go up to the Supreme Court of the United States. In order to justify his assumption of jurisdiction in the case, Boxn decided that a citizen of any State has the right under the Constitution of the United States to sue his own State. This case ought to have the effect of then were to-day arrested on suspicion of knowing a good deal of the Arnold mur-der. One yesterday left a pistol with Sefer Bluse that takes a cartridge corresponding with the ball that killed Arnold. Both opening the eyes of the justices of the Supreme Court of the United States to the fact that to allow a State to be sued by its own citizens, as in the North Carolina case, or citizens, as in the North Carolina case, or through its officers, as in several Virginia cases, is to render not only the eleventh article of the amendments but the whole Constitution of the United States "a mere capsized off Sheperd's, but were rescued Constitution of the United States "a mere lingle of words." Judge Bonn held that a State might be sued in the Federal courts by its own citizens, and on that ground assumed jurisdiction in the TEMPLE case. But he might have based his jurisdiction upon the ground that inasmuch as suing a State's officers was not suing a State, he had the right to order the State's officers to proceed to collect the taxes to pay the interest upon the repudiated bonds.

How long will Boxo's order hold good? The bonds probably have fifteen or twenty years to run, thus rendering his decision ridiculous and farcical. Does he expect to "run" the State of North Carolina for twenty years?--to collect and disburse taxes all that time?

We take it for granted that if Boxp's decision were sustained by the Supreme Court of the United States the collecting officers in North Carolina would all resign. What would Bexp do then? Would be undertake to appoint collectors for the State? If not, what would his decision be worth to the bondholders?

But the Supreme Court of the United States will not affirm Boxp's decision in the North Carolina case. The precipice is too plainly in sight. And in refusing to go to the lengths that Boxo is willing to go to in that case that court will have occasion to review its decisions in the Virginia coupen cases. And, therefore, we hope that good results, not bad ones, will follow the unjust decision of Boxp in the North Carolina cuse.

The Wheat and Coffee Breaks. Some of Chiengo's most astute business men are reported as saying that the result of the wheat and coffee breaks will be to clear the atmosphere and bring trade back to legitimate channels. They think that the lesson is one that will not be lost, If this be so the "panic" is not much to be regretted. It is perhaps the proper thing to be sorry for those who were caught, but it should be remembered that the experience of the few may prevent, wild speculation A MERICAN EXCHANGE

LETTERS OF CREDIT, on the part of the many, and thus avert widespread business trouble.

The Times takes comfort from the fact that "the Dispatch and other papers" did not follow the Whig's lead in its condemnation of Judge Bond for violating section 720 of the Revised Statutes. They evidently saw very plainly that the Whig didn't need any assistance in its discussion with the Times.—Whig.

We think that the Times and the Whig ought to let us speak for ourselves. As both those papers, however, have referred to us in connection with this matter, we will state that our attention was called to section 720 of the Revised Statutes of the United States on the day before the Whig's first article on the subject appeared in that paper, but we were not able to see that tha section applied to an injunction intended merely to restrain a person from bringing a suit. We took it for granted that when the law said "stay" it meant "stay." Also, that the sole object of section 720 was to prevent Federal interference with the State courtsnot to prevent the Federal courts from taking jurisdiction over persons when those courts could do so without trenching upon the dignity of the State courts. However, we do not wish to take part in the controversy between the Whig and the Times; and we will close by saying that
